The Government of Great Britain Lodge a Protest Against the Action of Minister Stevens in

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—[By the Associated Press.] There are some important developments in the Hawaiian situation: First, it is pretty clearly indicated that the administration is not in any way lukewarm in the matter, as was at first supposed. Secondly, the action of the commander of the Boston, against which Great Britain is about to file, or has filed, a formal protest, has received the official approval of the President and Cabinet. The sentiment in favor of annexing is rapidly extending, and several members of the Cabinet have expressed themselves in favor It has been reported that President Harrison is in favor of annexation. Although the course pursued by Minister Stevens in ordering the Boston's marines on shore was without explicit instructions from the Government, his action is fully approved by the President. In the Senate there is distinctively an American feeling on the Hawaiian question, which is not confined to any party. There can be no doubt that the majority of the mem-bers of the Foreign Relations Committee look with favor on the establishment of American domination on the islands, but in just what shape is a tion on the subject as offered today is not looked upon in any way, as an anti-annexation feeling but rather as a fear on the part of the opponents of the anti-options bill that if it had not gone over till tomorrow the day would have been spent in its discussion and delivery of anti-option speeches have been pre-vented.

Mr. Hooker of Mississippi, also a member of the committee, expressed himself absolutely opposed to any other government than the United States taking possession of the Hawaiian Islands.

The British government has instructed Sir Julian Pauncefote, its Minister here, to protest against the action of the United States officials and forces in Hawaii. The protest, it is understood, will be lodged with Secretary of State Foster tomorrow. To what ex-tent the protest goes cannot be stated

New York, Jan. 30.-Ex-Presiden Cleveland, when asked today about the report from San Francisco to the effect that one of the Hawaiian commissioners had received advices from the East which encouraged him to believe that Cleveland's administration would be inclined favorably toward annexation, said he had not expressed himself to anyone on the subject in fact, had not given the matter in consideration. If he had, however, he did not consider it would be proper for him to express an opinion at the present time.

Blaine's Remains Placed in the Tomb.

The Private Funeral Was Grandly National in Character.

The Streets of the Capital Thronged With Mourning Crowds.

Church-His Estate Valued at Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars.

By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON. Jan. 80.- By the Asso ciated Press. | Blaine could not have a private funeral. Surging waves of people swept over the barriers and made his private funeral one of the most impressive of public demonstrations Some of the most eminent men in the Nation stood around the bier. All business at the National Capital was sus pended during the services. The presence of the President, Cabinet, Supreme Court Judges, high officials of Congress. and Diplomatic Corps was not more significant than the homage of the waiting crowds who in respectful silence lined the streets through which the funeral cortage passed.

The parlor on the second floor, where the body lay, was fairly embowered in flowers, tributes from prominent people from all parts of the country, from President Harrison down. The President's tribute was a wreath of orchids and roses, and was placed on the coffin. President Harrison entered first, accompanied by Mrs. McKee. Following them came officials from the executive legislative and, judicial departments, the Diplomatic Corps, and others whose ties of kindred, friendship or association entitled them to the privilege of being present at the final rites of the distinguished statesman. The parlors were not able to contain all who received invitations. Even the house was too small, and many perforce remained in their carriages, which filled the adjacent streets, extending along Penn-sylvania avenue in front of the Treasury, War, State and Navy buildings. concourse of several thousand occupied Lafayette Square, opposite the Blaine mansion, and the doors and windows of the adjacent houses were thronged with spectators. A marked air of de solemnity attended even the out side demonstration.

THE SERVICES AT THE HOUSE.

As the hour for the services arrived the mourners, including the members of the family, grouped around the casket, the remainder of those present stand-ing, as there was not room for chairs. A simple service of prayer constituted the rites. Rev. Dr. Hamlin, standing beside the casket, delivered in a low tone the Presbyterian service for the dead. Walter Damrosch in the mean time touching the keys of a piano to the notes of a slow dirge. Dr. Hamlin thanked God that life ended, only that immortality might begin, and besought the Almighty for comfort to the mem-bers of the stricken household. This ended the brief but impressive service The casket was closed and borne to the hearse, and the procession then wended its way slowly to the Church of the Covwith spectators, whosreverently doffed their hats as the cortege passed by Following the hearse were the bearers as heretofore mentioned; came the members of the family, the attending physicians, and then the distinguished guests in due order. At the church ropes were stretched to exclude all not especially invited.

THE CHURCH SERVICES

The funeral procession arrived at the church at noon, and to an improvisa tion on the organ, composed of severa themes of hymns which Blaine loved the distinguished concourse moved slowly up the aisle and the body was deposited at the chancel rail. ices at the church were as simple as at the house, consisting of the service for the dead, selections from scriptures and prayer. The funeral procession re formed and conveyed the body to Oak Hill Cemetery.

THE CHURCH DECORATIONS The decorations at the church were very rich and effective. The terrace formed by the pulpit and the rail sera-rating the organ gallery from the plat-form afforded a background for a striking massing of plants and cut flowers. On the ledge of the pulpit cut flowers were ranged in a ribbon ten or twelve inches in width. Below this ribbon and suspended from across the front and curved sides of the pulpit were short festoons of smilax. The baptismal font at the right of the pulpit was twined with a smilar rope and bore in its bowl a bunch of Harrissi lilies. Over the cut flowers were foliage plants. At either end of the rail against the wall stood an immense rubber tree, and towering over all immediately behind the reading desk were two Kentias

The front of the organ was covered with curtains of smilax. Repes dropped from the apex of the instrument to the candelabra on the side walls of the organ loft. This decoration was made under the direction of the public gar-dener, and has never been surpassed here in either profusion or perfect en-semble. The space in front of the pul-pit, in which the coffin lay, was en-tirely covered with floral emblems, which accompanied the remains from the house. These were disposed in such a way as to heighten the effect of the stationary decorations. Mrs. Blaine as not among the mourners at the

Hale and other sympathizing friends followed her to the death chamber, but friendly ministrations were of no avail and Mrs. Blaine was compelled to remain behind. At the cemetery on the successive terraces that border the winding path-way leading to the grave scores of spectators were standing. Many spectators were standing. Many pressed forward to pluck a flower from the wreath on the column that adorned the dead man's bier. The floral tributes were so numerous that five wagons necessary to convey them to the cemetery, where they were arranged artistically back of the grave on a huge strip of canvas.

AT THE GRAVE.

Dr. Hamlin read the simple burial service of the Presbyterian Church. This was followed by an extemporaneous prayer, then came the benediction and all that was mortal of James Gillespie Blaine was consign, to the earth. The interment was over fifteen minutes after the cortege entered the cemetery at 1:30 o'clock. Slowly the crowd dispersed. The President, his Cabinet, Senators, family, all entered their carriages and were driven away. All but one, James G. Blaine, who is junior no longer, who stood be-side the grave of his father until the masons had bricked in the casket and the grave-diggers had filled in the re-maining space. When all this was ac-complished, he returned to his carriage and the last group of spectators dispersed.

The death certificate gives the primary cause of his death as arterio renal fibrosis (a chronic interstitial nephritis;) chronic catarrhal pneumonia. mediate cause was cardiac degenera-tion and dilatation, with edema of the lungs. The desire of friends who at-tended the services at the church to carry away some memento of the occa-sion resulted in the complete stripping of all flowers from the pulpit and organ rail almost before the cortege had fairly begun the march to the cemetery.

The will of Mr. Blaine will be probated in Augusta, Me. The disposition he makes of his property is characteristic of the confidence he always reposed in his wife, and which was such a noticeable feature of the family re-lation. Everything is left unreservedly to Mrs. Blaine, she to be the sole executrix and not to be required to give any bond. The estate will amount to about $800,000.

NEEDS NO EPITAPH BUT HIS NAME. St. Paul (Minn.,) Jan. 30.-Both houses of the Minnesota Legislature met in joint session this afternoon and held a Blaine memorial meeting. The joint committee reported a set of reso-lutions eulogistic of the dead statesman, tendering the sympathy of the people of Minnesota to the bereaved family, and concluding with the sentiment that he needs no epitaph but his name. After addresses by Ignatius Donnelly and others, the resolutions were unani-mously adoped, and both houses adjourned as a further token of respect,

The church was filled, over a thousand persons being present, including the clergymen of the city. The church clergymen of the city. The church was appropriately decorated. The Hon. J. W. Bradbury, who is 91 years of age, made an affecting address, in which he spoke of the singular ways of providence, by which a man of Mr. Blaine's age, when at the zenith of his possibilities, should be taken, while those of advanced age and of little usefulness were left. Resolutions of affectionate regard, favoring the interaffectionate regard, favoring the inter-ment of the remains in Augusta, were adopted and ordered sent to the family.

A Resolution Introduced in the Senate to Annex Hawaii,

Washington, Jan. 30.—[By the Associated Press. | Senate. - In the Senate Mr. Chandler offered a resolution requesting the President to enter into negotiations with the provisional government of Hawaii for the admission of the islands as a territory, and to lay a convention before Congress for ratification by legislation.

White (Dem.) of Louisiana objected to its immediate consideration, and it went over till tomorrow.

The Anti-option Bill was then taken up and Mr. White made another argument against it.

In referring to the claim of the supporters of the bill that "future" dealings cause fluctuations and recessions in prices, Mr. White gave figures to show how enormous such future dealings in cotton were in September, Octo-ber and November last, on the exchanges of New York, New Orleans and Liverpool, and that, notwithstanding this, prices had advanced from 7½ cents in September to 10 cents in November. Mr. White spoke for nearly three hours, closing his speech with the assertion that the purpose of the bill was to sepa-rate the United States from the great commerce of the world. Adjourned. CINCINNATI (O.,) Jan. 30.—[By the Associated Press.] A fearful explosion occurred in the Diehl fireworks plant at Reading, Hamilton county, twelve miles north of here, today. Only two of them, however, are at all seriously in-jured. The fireworks are manufactured in small wooden buildings, each about fifteen feet square. The explosion oc-curred in one of these little structures where the stars are dried. It is sup-posed the room became overheated and the highly inflammable nature of the material about it rendered the explomaterial about it rendered the explosion a natural sequence. When the explosion occurred stars went flying through the air a long distance, setting fire to the other buildings, and in turn setting off explosives in them. Cleveland Quoted as saying the Sherman Law Is a National Perli.

New York, Jan. 30. - [By the Associated Press. | A morning paper quotes a New York Democrat of national reputation, with whom Cleveland talked frankly about his plans, as saying that Cleveland looks on the silver issue as the paramount one in politics—superior even to the tariff—and to be the first matter settled by his administration. He considers the Sherman act as a peril to the country and must be repealed before anything else is done. The Cabinet and Federal appointments will be shaped to this end. Cleveland was astonished that certain Congressmen, after visiting him to urge high Federal appointments, should return to Washington and endeavor not only to pre-vent the repeal of the Sherman law, but even work hard to pass free coinage.

One member of the committee, who the respect of nations who were now friendly simply because it was good policy to be friendly. In a country like the United States, as he looked upon it, it was of little moment whether the annexation of Hawaii involved the expenditure of thousands or millions. Senator Chandler's resolution requests the President to lay before Congress, any treaty he to lay before Congress any treaty he may make for ratification by legisla-tion. The purpose of that language was to permit the House of Representatives to share in the responsibility in the disposition of the subject and not have the action taken in the Senate and behind closed doors. Undoubtedly this was calculated to strengthen the proposition contained in the resolution looking for annexation. Chand-ler says the time has come for the United States to an-nex the Hawaiian Islands. For years they have been gravitating toward us, but as long as a self-supporting auton-omous government could be maintained on the islands, there was no necessity for annexation. Now, however, it is apparent that the government can no longer stand, and as the people are willing to come to us it will not be necessary for the United States to em-

Mr. Watson of Georgia who voices the People's party, said: "It is a job and nothing but a job," speaking against annexation. "It is a job put up by American property-owners and sugar-planters in Hawaii, who are not looking to national property. sugar-planters in Hawaii, who are not looking to national prosperity but to personal aggrandizement." The general sentiment among members of the House seems to be that the United States should annex the Hawaiian 'Islands now that it has been invited to do so. But there are exceptions to this view. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30. - [Special.] The House today in acting on the Bretz Investigation Committee report decided, by a vote of 60 to 16, to punish the member from Alameda by bringing him before the bar of the House, and that a reprimand be administered to him by the Speaker, and that he be suspended for one week. Bretz has several times declared his intention of resisting the carrying out of this sentence, but tonight he is more docile and now says he will take his medicine like a man.

Ex-Mayor of Los Angeles Henry T. Hazard and the Hon. Abbott Kinney arrived here last night. They are here representing the Citizen's Non-partisan Reform Association, and their first work will be to appear at 9 a.m. tomorrow before the joint House and Senate Committee on Counties and County Boundaries in opposition to the San Antonio county divisionists.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

The State Delegation in Congress Asked to SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30 .- [By the Associated Press.] In the Assembly this morning a joint resolution was introduced requesting the California delegation in Congress to use every honorable means to secure annexation of the Hawaiian Islands. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations, with instructions to report tomorrow. The Committee on Elections reported in favor of allowing H. B. M. Miller to retain his seat as Assemblyman from the Forty-ninth District. The report will be taken up tomorrow.

had been made, as a quorum was not present at the meeting of the committee. A number of bills were introduced. The Assembly Judiciary Committee decided this forenoon, by a vote of 8 to 4, to allow counsel for Bretz to defend the latter at the bar of the House for a time not to exceed one hour. Speaker Gould announced that Bretz could not be allowed counsel outside of the membership of the House without the unanimous consent of the House. Mr. Shanahan moved the adoption of the minority report signed by Messrs. Shanahan, Alford, Hamilton, Finlayson and Mack against allowing Mr. Bretz counsel. The minority report was re-jected by a vote of 38 to 36.

On motion of Mr. Matthews of Tehama, that Mr. Kerns also be allowed TO BE SUSPENDED FOR ONE WEEK AND REP

RIMANDED.

The majority report in regard to allowing Bretz to be represented by counsel was rejected by 36 to 38. Mr. Barlow's rdsolution that the House resolve itself into a committee of the whole for the discussion of the Bretz matter was lost. Mr. Shanahan offered a resolu-tion that Bretz be forthwith expelled. Mr. Vann offered a substitute that Bretz be acquitted. Mr. Bledsoe offered a resolution that Bretz be suspend one week. Mr. Anderson amended Mr. Bledsoe's substitute resolution to in clude a reprimand from the Speaker. Mr. Shanahan then withdrew his original resolution. Mr. Bretz said he ac cepted the will of the House with one exception. He would not be repri-manded. Mr. Bledsoe's resolution suspending Bretz for one week, with Mr. Anderson's amendment including a rep-rimand from the Speaker, was then

At the conclusion of the Bretz matter the House took a recess until this evening. During the debate the chamber was filled with spectators, who watched the proceedings with much interest. During an intermission in the afternoon proceedings Speaker Gould an nounced as a committee to investigate the charges made by Railroad Commis sioner Rea against Assemblyman John son: Messrs Mordecai, Hendrickson, Hurley, Bulla and Bledsoe. Weibking, as he related to Chief Glass at the police station yesterday afternoon, is a rancher in a modest sort of a way, and cultivates a few fertile acres out in the University district. On Wednesday last, as he was ponder-On Wednesday last, as he was pondering over his agricultural pursuits, and waiting for the clouds to blow away, a man drove up to the gate, and began in the manner of the Eastern tenderfood to inquire about corner lots and realty values. He told Weibking that he was looking up some property for a sick lady relative. When he went away he promised to return on the following day with the lady in question, and left Weibking well pleased with his gentlemanly manner and address. When he did come, on the Friday fol-lowing, he brought with him another man whom he introduced as a Mr. Wilman whom he introduced as a Mr. Wilson. While the three were engaged in talking real estate, another party drove up. The last individual represented himself as being the representative of a lottery company and showed his by this time very attentive listeners how they could double up their pocket money at a surprising rate. To prove the fact, he induced the first tender-foot, who called himself Martin, to investin a trial ticket. He immediately had in a trial ticket. He immediately had a drawing, and the ticket-holder won $10. Then Weibking tried his hand and another drawing resulted likewise for the latter. But the agent wanted to draw for big money, and so he put up $1000 in paper, which he offered as Martin and Weibking bought tickets and both won $500. The agent here politely said that he would have to communicate with his head office before paying out the money, but if each of the winners would produce if each of the winners would produce $500 to show that they were responsible parties, put it in a box he had with him and deposit it in Mr. Weibking's care until the next day, all would be satisfactorily arranged. THE PLOT DEEPENS.

New Developments in the Bentley Case.

The Body of Mrs. Bentley-Nordholt Exhumed.

A Chemical Analysis of the Stomach Now in Progress.

an Official Report Will Probably Be Sub mitted to the District Attorney Today-Very Conflicting Statements.

The Nordholt-Bentley case grows more and more interesting as the investigation continues. From latest developments startling evidence has been ecured confirming the theory that the unfortunate woman was poisoned, and with criminal intent.

The exhuming of the body Saturday, by order of the District Attorney; the post-mortem examination of the remains by Coroner Cates, held Sunday at Rosedale, when the stomach was removed, and the work of analyzing the stomach, which began yesterday and is still in progress, may now be made public, for every loophole is protected and every exit closed against the escape of the guilty parties.

The case has been handled with the greatest secrecy, and has been managed admirably from the beginning.

The death of Mrs. Nordholt-Bentley occurred on the morning of New Year's day. The sudden illness and fatal re-day. The sudden illness and fatal results were from the first shrouded in mystery, as the woman was apparently healthy and was quite herself early in the morning. But those most inter-ested, the children of the unfortunate woman, were too deeply stricken with grief at their loss to note the peculiar circumstances surrounding it all, it was not until after the inter interment took place that it was recalled how un-usual everything had been in connec-tion with the case.

It was then that the actions of Bentley were recalled, wherein he awaited his time before seeking medical atten-tion for his wife, and his nonchalance as displayed through the whole matter.

The tragic death of the old lady, coupled with previous actions and premeditated arrangements by Bentley to secure a younger and more attractive woman, and his renewal of relations with and offers to the woman whom he had so cruelly deceived coming to light, could not bring about other action than that taken by District Attorney Dillon that of ordering a full and immediate investigation into the whole affair. There have been charges and counter charges from every side regarding this whole affair, many of them that must be accepted with due consideration of the source from which they emanate.

Bentley persists that the Nordholts, through their attorneys, have repeat-edly offered to compromise, offering to allow him to retain the money left by his wife and the $11,500 secured by mortgaging the property deeded to him by the woman, and have all further investigation stopped if he would but deed the property held by him, incum-bered as it is, back to the heirs. This Bentley claims to have persistently re-fused. On the other hand, the heirs and their attorneys as well denounce this story as the ravings of a diseased mind or malicious lies. The heirs claim that no overtures of any sort, except an un-conditional surrender of everything, has ever obeen made Bentley, and no even such an offer since suspicion fell upon him as the murderer of their

Bentley claims that he was inveigled into Detective Lawson's office, ostensi-bly for consultation, when the key was turned upon him and he was declared under arrest, but by strategy he es-caped by a side door when the atten-tion of Lawson was directed elsewhere. Bentley affects to believe that the act was to intimidate him into crim himself by an interview, and that offers to compromise the whole affair similar to others previously made were offered. Detective Lawson laughs at this story as absurd, but admits that Bentley came to his office by invitation, where the pumping process was administered, and that Bentley left abruptly, quite indignant. As to his offering to compro mise, it is simply a silly falsehood, as, in the first place, he had no power to propose such a thing, and, again, felt too confident that he had his man

The Hancock woman has evidently dropped her case, and it is reported has left the city, fearing she might be im-plicated in the affair and held to answer as an accomplice should the poisoning theory be found tenable.

is evident from the Hancock woman's own admissions that she does not doubt Bentley's guilt, for she, ac cording to her own testimony, compla cently awaited the three-months limit Bentley placed upon the life of his wife when renewing his proposals to her, and that she awaited with impatience 'a whole week'' after the death of Mrs. Bentley for Bentley's appearance to renew his former proposals of fealty, with the greatest sang froid, before writing "a real sassy let ter" to her rec-reant lover, in which she threatened exposure in the event of his non-com pliance with her demands of marriagor restitution to her injured affections Bentley is on the streets but little, keeping to his house very closely where he has as a protector, so he re ports, an "Arizona fighter." Bentley ' Bentley claims that he has evidence that "Detective Lawson and his thugs" have put up a job to "do" him at the instance of Will Nordholt, but such an idea was denounced as preposterous.

From latest reports of progress in the analysis of the woman's stomach it is believed the work will be concluded this evening, and an official report submitted tomorrow.

Nothing positive can be learned as to the results obtained by the chemists in charge, they, as well as the Coroner, being reticent on the subject, hence the matter must rest where it is until the official report.

Late last night it was reported that detectives were looking for Bentley, but that he could not be found. The fellow may be in hiding, as he is badly terrorized, but Lawson has had him "shadowed" for some days, and it is not believed that he has left the city. The Indictment Must Stand.

Boston, Jan. 30.-In the States Circuit Court today, after long arguments, Judge Putnam ruled that the indictment against Asa P. Potter, president of the bankrupt Maverick Bank, for falsification of checks, must stand.

Robbers Arrested Goshen, Jan. 80 .- Sheriff Kay and a posse, assisted by Detective Will Smith, arrested Walter Taimage and Tom Phillips at Talmage's ranch, five miles east of Goshen, for the robbery of Goshen station.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY. Four Inches of Rain for the Storm-General News Notes genuine downpour. The streets are almost deserted, few teams being out, and all citizens who are not obliged to be on the streets are comfortably housed. The rainfall last night was about four inches for this storm and about fifteen inches for the season. It is a curious fact that the rainfall inches for the season.

It is a curious fact that the rainfall gradually increases as we approach the foothills. Mr. Eddy's gauge on the banks of Mission-Creek, about a mite above the residence of Hugh D. Váil, who is the standard local authority, usually registers some 10 per cent. more, and it is notable that many light showers fall in the edge of the hills when it is dry in the valleys.

The preliminary examination of E. G. Archibald, charged with the attempted murder of his wife, was being held in Justice Crane's court yesterday, but there is no probability that any decision will be reached or, indeed, testimony of importance be presented before today. There was a large attendance, in spite of the deluge outside, a manifestation of the interest excited by the case. The case was being heard with-closed doors, but Mrs. Archibald, the missing witness, was present.

A young man came in from Goleta Sunday night and put up his horse at Stuarts livery stable. Deputy Constable Clarence Kelton's suspicions were aroused by the man's actions, and upon questioning him the man broke down and admitted that he had stolen the horse from a man near Goleta. He was taken in charge by the authorities.

WALLACE BAILEY.

A fire in an outbuilding in the rear of the attractive residence at No. 1511 Bath street, at an early hour Sunday morning made a big blaze and caused people who awoke to see it to fear a serious conflagration. age Suit-Adjournment of the Federal Courts-Court Notes-New Suits.

In all probability the trial of R. Frank Warner, the Santa Fé train-wrecker will be concluded today.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the eople rested their case, and the defense presented its side, when further light was thrown upon the former career of the defendant. E. C. Warren, A. S. Taylor, J. W. Sutherland and T. M. Dongan, all reputable citizens and business men of Redlands, were examined. Each had known the defendant for several years, during which time he had lived in and about Redlands. They had always found the man of peaceable disposition, but knew him to be a hard drinker. He would work for a time and save up a little money, and then go on a protracted spree until he had spent it all. While sober he was always industrious and nad done, to the witnesses' knowledge, much work at witnesses, knowledge, much work at different times.

This was about all the defense attempted to offer, simply evidence to youch for the defendant's previous peaceable character, and they soon closed. Nothing was presented in rebuttal by the prosecution, but argument was im-mediately proceeded with by the latter. Argument was waived by the defense and, the case being practically closed, the jury was instructed to appear today at 10 o'clock, when they will receive their instructions. NEW TRIAL DENIED. Judge Wade yesterday, in the case of H. G. Cogswell against the Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale Railway Company, made an order denying a motion for a new trial. The plaintiff had sought to recover damages from the company, alleged to have been sus-tained through the upsetting of a buggy in an excavation left open by the de fendants. When the case came up originally for trial a non-suit resulted. In support of his order in the action fendants. the judge rendered a brief written

The Philosophy of Wealth

He is wise beyond his day and genera tion, for he knows when he is rich enough. Four years ago he retired from active business, and he stated to an Associated Press reporter the other day that no consideration in the world would induce him to return to it. And why should hea. He has accumulated a large property, which is invested in a way to bring him a princely revenue-more than he requires from year to year to gratify all his personal desires and the desires of those dependent upon him. He does not spend it all, in fact, but accumulates a large balance, which he devotes to founding libraries and other beneficences. Now, the accumulation of more money, which he could undoubtedly accomplish by devoting himself assiduously to business, would not add to his pleasure-except it be its burdens would press upon him.

After a man has passed the climax of life, the toil and worry of business wear upon his physical and mental faculties with increasing ratio. So, while the grasping millionaire is straining every nerve to hold onto his possessions and gather in more, he is wearing out very rapidly. He not only denies himself the larger pleasures which may b enjoyed only by those who are free vated tastes to gratify, but he is actually shortening his life. Every year which limit, they seem to absorb his other faculties-he becomes addicted to a pas can possibly enjoy, whether he shall loosen the tension and enjoy it, or keep up the tension and enjoy nothing in the few years that he cuts himself down to.

Mr. Carnegie utters an importan truth when he says that it is a great error of Americans that they endure

the harassing cares incident to business until they break down, when they should be in their prime. Jay Gould was one of the monomaniacs we speak of, and he died in harness while not yet an old man. He died with all his sordid-ness predominant in him, and left not one dollar in legacy to any charitable or beneficent object. By pursuing his ambition for getting beyond a reasonable limit, he sinned away his day of

grace, and died a bankrupt in all to make a man's life great and a benefit to himself and his kind.

Had Gould loosened his hold on Wall street ten or twelve years ago-had he retired to the enjoyment of his accumulations, which were then ample for all the requirements of himself and his fam ily-he might today be a hale and hearty man. What is more, he might have broadened his life by the exercise of some liberality and charity, so that he would be a deal happier than he ever was in the fag-end of his existence.

There is another benefit that comes with the timely retirement of million aires, which Mr. Carnegie brings out in his interview. It gives other and younger men a chance; it promotes a more equitable distribution of wealth and not only confers happiness upon those who retire, but also upon those

There may be little good in lecturing wealthy men on this subject. When Ephriam is joined to his idols it is generally well to let him alone. But we hope there is coming up a new generation of Americans, destined to become rich, who will take broader and more philosophical views of the uses and enjoyments of wealth than the generation that is now, happily, being gathered to its fathers. They will see how utterly futile, even from a selfish standpoint.

is this passion of acquisitiveness when carried beyond reasonable limits. They will see how much better it is for the world to jog along pleasantly with them than for it to wait impatiently for them to get out of the way so that it may jog along more pleasantly without them. They will recognize the fact that more creature comforts, as well as more intellec tual pleasures, await them if they only realive when they have enough, and quit the struggle for accumulating. In other words, we hope the American millionaire of the future will have some good horse sense as well as a good deal of the milk of human kindness in hi

One of the results of the Democratic tidal wave will be the admission of Arizona and New Mexico to statehood. Bills to that end have passed the House and are now pending in the Senate. If they do not get through this Congress they undoubtedly will the next. They are sure to be admitted, because they are Democratic.

It almost seems as though the great English dailies try to outdo each other in displaying their ignorance of Amercan politics. Now comes the Pall Mall Gazette with the statement that "C. A. The delegate who carried the certificate of the electoral vote of Kansas to Washington failed to provide himself with the necessary voucher for obtaining his mileage and per diem. This oversight probably furnishes the first instance in the history of Kansas where inexperience thwarted the instinct of self-preservation. But even the Populists are learning.

THAT was a funny "straddle" of the Herald's the other day, on the subject of county division in San Bernardino. It became so engrossed in the matter, the fine rains, the elegant prospect for crops, and the general attractiveness of side, that it forgot to say whether it favors the cutting in two of San Ber nardino county or not, leaving its readers in a perfect maze of "lush and lusty" vegetation.

It is supposed that the sentiment in New York city against the demolition of the old City Hall, now that a new one is on the tapis, is a result of municipal pride in its great men. It was erected by Boss Tweed, and is a memorial of his greatness. However, whatever sentiment there may be in the matter is likely to be overridden. Tammany would rather have the fat picking of a present job than to preserve an old tradition, however sacred.

I find several statutes still in force which cover the disease in question, and which I quote as follows:

Approved April 9, 1880. By this act the Board of Supervisors are authorized, when application is made by five legal voters of any voting precinct, to appoint a commission to inspect fruit trees, and in case disease of any kind be found the commissioners may take such action as may be necessary for the public good.

March 13, 1883. By sec. 5 of this act the State Board of Horticulture, for the purpose of preventing the spread of contagious diseases among fruit trees, is authorized to make regulations. This act, while if authorizes power to cleanse and distinfect, does not contain any power to destroy.

trees, etc.

The inspector is authorized to require the owner to "eradicate" the disease, and also such trees so infested are declared to be a nuisance, and the nuisance ordered to be abated. The word pest covers within the abated. The word pest covers, within its meaning, a contagious disease. Reports have been submitted to me showing that "root knot" is a contagious disease; that new trees planted in the same soil from which a tree afflicted with this disease had been taken, contracts the same disease. All soils in which trees afflicted with "root knot" have been taken are recommended by competent authority to be planted for several years to vegetables or cereals before again planting to trees.

My opinion, therefore, is that the disease called "root knot" is a contagious disease; that it is within the meaning of the act above quoted, and that the proper officer named in said acts is clothed with full power to destroy all such trees, if incurable, and I am advised that it is.

A telegram from the Salt Lake officials, who were to have arrived in this city yesterday, was read, stating that the company had been detained, but fixing no date for their definite arrival. FROM THE CITY ATTORNEY.

The City Attorney made a report in petition of James the matter of the Moir in regard to the opening and widening of Maple avenue, reciting that William Niles had mortgaged a tract of land to him, situated on the corner of Maple avenue and Washington street, long previous to the time Mr. Niles opened Maple avenue, and that the time for the redemption of such land had not yet expired, and claiming that due compensation had not been allowed him, the attorney stating that he bad made an examination of the facts and found the statements contained in the petition to be, in the main, correct. The matter went over until afternoon

On the petition of M. G. McKoon and others, in reference to the opening of Figueroa street, the same official re-

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR. The following message from the Mayor was read:

Mayor was read:

Mayor Hazard, on retiring from office, left unsigned several contracts for sections of the outfall sewer, and requested me to investigate carefully before signing. After carefully examining the line of the sewer, with the City Engineer and Mr. Munson, I found that sections 4 and 5 were very crooked and much longer than was necessary, and therefore asked the City Engineer to make a trial survey to ascertain what could be done in the way of straightening the line on those sections. The City Engineer reported that a straight line could be made, saving a distance of 1917 feet, and that the saving of this distance would enable the city to build these two sections of the full size of seventy-two inches in diameter at the same cost as it would to build on the old line where most of the sewer is, at present planned, but forty inches in diameter.

The advantages to the city by the new line over the old one are:

First—The new line is perfectly straight, and there will be less wear and tear and client, claiming that improper benefits and damages had been assessed to him by the commissioners in making the The report of the City Attorney in the matter of the protest of James Moore was next read, recommending that the report of the commissioners be referred back, with the recommenuntil the J. line over the old one are:
First—The new line is perfectly straight, and there will be less wear and tear and freer flow of water than in the original long and crooked line.
Second—The saving in distance of 1917 feet, thus not only diminishing the length of the sewer to be built, but lessening the distance to be kept in repair.
Third—The sewer for nearly the entire length of sections 4 and 5 will, in the new line, be in tunnel, and will be constructed line, be in tunnel, and will be constructed line, be in tunnel, and will be constructed seventy-two inches in diameter, which, it is estimated, will be sufficiently large for the future needs of the city, while in the plans as originally proposed the sewer is but forty inches in diameter in most of the distance on those sections. It is expected that in the course of a few years the city will have increased in population so that a forty-inch outfall sewer will not be large enough, and then it will be necessary; as the original plans propose, to build another-forty-inch sewer alongside of the one to be built. By building it seventy-two inches in diameter now the city will save the enormous outlay necessary to build this parallel line in the not very distant future.

Fourth—About nine hundred feet of the line now under consideration is to be built future needs of the city, while in the plan Street Superintendent in making the assessments for the same, was then called up, when the appeal of the con-The protest of property-owners J.

It will be almost impossible to but plans. It will be almost impossible to build this sewer on made ground so that it will not settle and crack, thus rendering the city liable for constant and expensive re-pair and lawsuits for damages, if these breaks should create a nuisance, as they probably would. proposed straight line that is on made ground.

Fifth—The proposed new short sewer can be built at the increased size for the same price as the longer and smaller and crooked sewer.

Sixth—Section 4; as originally planned, runs for a long distance through land now covered by a large pond, where water stands until late in the summer, and if the season should be a wet one, as now seems probable, this body of water might cause delay in the completion of the sewer.

The old route for sections 4 and 5 was, perhaps, the best for which a right-of-way could be obtained at the time, but I am reliably informed that at this time a right-of-way can be obtained without cost to the city for the proposed new straight line.

I E. Rowan, Mayor.

I fully indorse the above.

A lengthy debate followed the reading of the message, Councilman Nic kell opposing any change in the proposed THE MAYOR TALKS.

Mayor Rowan, who came in during he debate, then briefly addressed the Council, saying he favored pushing work on both the outfall sewer and the hill water system, but he was not in favor of building a sewer which would be a failure in a year or two. He was working in the interests of the city, not in the interests of any contractor, and he proposed to do the best he could for the citizens. He did not wish to antagonize any measure before the Council but he wanted matters treated in a busi ness-like manner, and if he was he wanted the matter brought t He did not propose to allow criticism of his action in the lobby or on the street, but he wanted the matter brought directly to his attention, when he would be glad to confer with the proper author-

The official bond of Dr. L. M. Powers as Health Officer, was approved.

The vote by which the Zanjero's report

FLORIDA ORANGE CROP. Only the Indian River Country Escaped

the Freeze.
A Chicago special to the San Francisco Chronicle of the 27th says The orange crop of Florida is badly frozen. With the exception of the groves in the Indian River country, which will this year produce from 75,000 to 85,000 oxes, there is scarcely a section that has escaped. The freezing weather between January 14 and 20 was the worst the prange-growers of the State ever ex-perienced. The loss will fall mainly on the perienced. The loss will fall mainly on the Northern merchants, except where the freezing was hard enough to injure the trees. The crop, which was a large one, had been mostly sold to merchants either in Eastern cities or Chicago, and upon them the loss will fail.

For this reason, and for the further one that the frozen fruit is yet to be disposed of, the ordinary dealer is not disposed to magnify the extent of the damage. That it is extensive, is evidenced by the fact that speculators have been quietly at work all this week buying all the California oranges available, but the California grower has and the price of the fruit how in the market has scored i good advance. A month before Christma all of the Northern markets were badl overstocked and prices were very low. This induced the trade in general to leave inusually large quantities of truit on the tree and devote its attention to reducing the stock on hand. The result is that stock of good fruit are small and the dealer is now confronted with the prospect of supplying his trade with poor Florida fruit or going into California at high prices.

The foreign stiation will afford no re llef, a recent sice storm having greatly damaged the Medterranean crop. It can be readily seen that the consumer of good oranges must be good oranges or good oranges must be good oranges or good oranges or good oranges must be good oranges or g oranges must the year expect to pay a good price.

Lemons have also suffered from the cold weather. In Sicly a sleet storm recently left the fruit win a coating of ice, which did not destroy the fruit, but greatly damaged its keeping ualities. This was a fortunate thing for he consumer, but unfortunate for the grover and speculator. The latter, under the stimulus which the World's Fair ws expected to give the trade, anticipated boosting the price up from $11 to $12 abox. With fruit deficient in keeping qualities the speculator is compelled to run the tisk of shrinkage, which may cause him sejous loss. The crops are, therefore, put on supply-and-demand basis, and will be hadled by merchants for their consuming rade alone. The present wholesale price o good to choice lemons is from $3.50 to $4a box.

[From Our Regular New York Fashion Correspondent.] A stylish round cape suitable for a middle-aged or ederly lady is shown in the accompanying illustration. It is made of blue cloth, lined with blue silk and trimmed with fur as shown.

The styles for outer garments continue to show very great variety and a little of almost everything is seen. It was said that the big sleeves would put jackets out of fashion, but such has not been the case. Jackets are much too becoming and useful to be easily dethroned. If the dress sleeves are then the jacket sleeves must bigger, and the dificulty will be solved. The capes with double, and triple colto match the dress and lined with some

I recently saw two new and attractive designs for walking cos-tumes. The first was of thick Indian camel cloth, in a beautiful bright chest-nut shade, the skirt trimmed with three tiny rows of beaver fur, and the Russian tunic made with a double shouldercape, "storm" collar, wide waist-belt and large pocket flaps, all edged with the narrow fur. The second was a handsome and effective costume of tweed and brocaded velvet. The skirt was of the latter material, in a rich leaf-green shade, and the shoulder puffs were composed of the same velvet. AFFAIRS IN HAWAII

Interesting Interview With a Former Resident.

Good Cause Assigned for the Present Uprising.

The Queen Persistently Trying to Curtail Privileges.

The Question of Annexation-Only a Small Minority Against It-The Natives Not Ripe for a Republican Form of Government.

W. H. Bailey, a resident of Oakland, is at the Nadeau. Mr. Bailey was born in the Hawaiian Islands, where he was, for a long time, one of the most promi nent white residents, being engaged in the sugar-planting business. Mr. Bailey's brother-in-law, W. O. Smith, is one of the four members of the provisional government which has just taken charge of affairs in the islands, Mr. Smith's office being that of Attorney General. Mr. Bailey is well acquainted with all four of the members of the new government, and says they are thoroughly solid and representative men, who have the respect of the community. From his brother-in-law he received yesterday a long letter, with inclosures. giving the latest news of the recent coup, including many particulars which have not yet been published.

Among other details, Mr. Smith encloses a copy of the letter sent by the evolutionary party to Hon. John L. Stevens, the American Minister at Honolulu, asking protection and assistance. This letter, which is an offset to the comments of English papers claiming that there was no real cause for the recent movement, reads as follows:

HONOLULU, Jan. 16.
Sir: We, the undersigned citizens and Sir: We, the undersigned citizens and residents of Honolulu, respectfully request that in view of recent public events in this ringdom, culminating in the revolutionary lets of Queen Lilluokalani on Saturday last, the public safety is menaced and lives and property in peril, and we appeal to you ind the United States forces at your command for assistance. The Queen, with ald and armed force, and accompanied by threats of violence and bloodshed from those with whom she was acting, attempted to proclaim a new constitution; and while prevented for a time from accomplishing her object, declared publicity that she would only defer her action. This conduct and action was upon an occasion and under circumstances which have created general alarm and terror. We are unable to protect ourselves without aid, and therefore pray for the protection of the United pray for the protection of the United States forces.

This petition is signed by the committee of thirteen.

Mr. Bailey says that the moment he saw the names of the members of the provisional government he was confident that there was good cause for the revolutionary movement, although he did not know the cause of it particles. did not know the cause of it until he received details. In the course of Atty. Gen. W. O. Smith's letter, that gentle-man says: "We are determined to carry the revolution through this time, antil we are annexed by the United States. We took risks, and some thought our force was too small, Thurscon breaking down in health at a criti-cal moment, which resulted in Dole's resigning and taking the lead. This added character and force to the movement, and permitted the sending of Thurston to Washington. The Ameri-can Minister and Capt. Wiltze of the Boston have acted finely. Mr. Stevens has shown a very strong character, doing nothing rashly, but always ready, and firm as a rock. The public trusted implicitly to our committee of thirteen. implicitly to our committee of thirteen. We have allowed the Queen to forward her protest by mail. We have taken and declared legislative as well as executive powers."

The Dole referred to was a chief justice who had hitherto been very conservative. He has a brother in Riverside.

Questioned in regard to annexation Mr. Bailey said that the chief opposition to such a step came from a clique of half white office-seekers, with a certain following of natives. The best informed natives have always acted with the leading white men. Residents of the leading white men. Residents of the capital are almost unanimously in favor of annexation. A few persons favor an independent republic, includ-ing some of those who are now acting with the Queen. Even the English res-with the Queen. Even the English residents—or a great majority of them—favor annexation.

The responsible people on the islands are about tired of the present condition of affairs, and determined to have a change. Once before, in 1882, the Queen's brother, Kalakaua, attempted to take aware the constitutions. to take away the constitution and dis-franchise the whites, and the Queen ap-pears never to have given up this de-sign. In 1882 Mr. Bailey was one of the committee of nine which was sent to the King to protest against the proposed step.

As to the possibility of an autonomy as to the possibility of an autonomy under the protectorate of the United States, Mr. Bailey is of opinion that a similar difficulty would be found as that which was experienced in the Southern States after the war. The natives are mostyl irresponsible voters, who would get into the hands of designing white men, as they have done on previous oc-casions. The great mass of the natives take little interest in politics and are not ripe for a republican form of government, being unable even to hold their own under a monarchy. For some years there have been in existence property as well as intelligence qualifications in the franchise. A majority property as well as intelligence qualifications in the franchise. A majority of the natives could read and write until a few years ago, but of late there has been a falling off in this respect.

Tomorrow Mr. Bailey goes to the Dlinda ranch, in Orange county, a property of several thousand acres, which he contemplates subdividing before long. He will return to Oakand in about a week.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

Final Work of the State Commissioners-Inspection of Exhibits.

Inspection of Exhibits.

The World's Fair Commission for California, in session here last week, decided before dissolving to issue an edition of 100,000 copies of an illustrated book in paper covers descriptive of the resources, interests and development of California, to be distributed as Chicago free. The book is to be published by the H. S. Crocker Book Publishing House of San Francisco, while the matter it contains will be from the pens of Californians, and will teem with special features from the brightest ninds in the golden West. The commission decided to leave the mspection and acceptance of the county tnd local exhibits to the several members of the commission, apportioning the work into districts. For instance, Commissioner Rose will attend to San Luis Obispo and the six counties comprising the Southern California Association. tion. The work of examining the exhibits will begin at once.

In this connection, Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Southern California Association wishes THE TIMES to notify prospective exhibitors that it is abso-lutely necessary that they send to the association immediately their names and addresses and the character of the exhibit that will be made, otherwise they will be left out of the official cata-

The regular quarterly meeting of the Southern California Commission will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in their rooms at the Chamber of Commerce building, when matters of special importance to every county and every exhibitor will be brought up, discussed and disposed of; hence all interested are requested to attend.

While the commissioners were here,
Mr. Phelan, the chairman of the art department exhibit for California, in-spected the Southern California art ex-hibit, and gave it his approval, espe-cially complimenting several pieces, and speaking approvingly of the entire exhibit. It was the expressed opinion of several members that, Southern Cali-fornia would area. fornia would excel all her former ef-

Since the board of lady managers have surrendered the responsibility of the fruit jelly exhibit, the commission have taken it into their own hands and changed the manner of arranging the display. Instead of a "palace," an arch will be constructed, that mode of exhibiting being more convenient, less exhibiting being more convenient. less expensive, and quite as effective, besides enjoying the distinction of being a novel feature as proposed.

for a time dealings in those speculatives were attended with considerable excitement. There was a rush to sell stock at the opening, and blocks of from 500 to 5000 were thrown on the market regardless of price. The opening sale was at a 4 per cent. decline from the closing figure on Saturday. From this figure the price rapidly fell until it touched 38, a decline of 9 per cent from Saturday.

The selling was due to a published statement that the trust was in financial straits. The bears took advantage of this wild decline to jimp upon the speculatives, and succeeded in pulling them down in the early trading. The whole market recovered shortly after the first half hour, however, and Whisky came back to 42%. Selling was renewed at intervals, however, during the forenoon, and the pressure to sell was especially marked in the last hour, the closing prices of a majority of the list being the lowest of the day. The declines for the day ranged from ½ to 4% per cent, the latter being in the Whisky Trust.

ing, by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Catarrh can be cured. Not with the poisonous, irritating snuffs and strong, caustic solutions, that simply palliate for a time, or perhaps, drive the disease to the lungs—but with Dr. Sage's Remedy.

The worst cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. "Cold in the Head," needs but a few applications. Catarrhal Headache, and all the effects of Catarrh in the Head—such as offensive breath, loss or impairment of the senses of taste, smell and hearing, watering or weak eyes—are at once relieved and cured.

In thousands of case, where everything else has failed, Dr. Sage's Remedy has produced perfect and permanent cures. That gives its proprietors failt to make the effer. It's $500, or a cure. They mean to pay you, if they can't cure you.

City Engineer Sedwick submitted a report relative to the grading of Los Robles avenue between Villa street and the Santa F6 crossing. He recommended striking a mean between the present grade and the official grade as recently established, so as to work the least hardship on the property owners. The report was adopted, and the City Attorney instructed to draw up an ordinance in accordance. A petition was read, signed by fourteen property-owners, asking that Raymond avenue between Villa and Painter streets be graded under the Vrooman act, at the expense of the property-owners. The petition was referred back to the signers to have a correction in the wording made.

HELLO!

In no way is the growth of Pasadena during the past year more forcibly illustrated than by the growth of the local telephone exchange during the same period of time. A year ago there were hardly half a hundred telephones in use in town, and it required a stroke of genius on the part of the management to obtain a new subscriber. Today there are 112 telephones in use, and new ones are being put up as fast as they can be obtained from the East. At present there are half a dozen orders waiting to be filled.

The Pasadena exchange was established filled.

The Pasadena exchange was established about nine years ago. Up to the time of the boom the number of subscribers was not large, and during the height of the boom not more than 75 'phones were in use. After the bubble had burst and the excitement subsided, this number was very materially reduced. Afterward came a not very marked change for the better, an occasional new name being added to the list of subscribers. It was not until last June that the exchange began to grow at a lively rate. There were then sixty telephones on the list. Today, as already stated, there rate. There were then sixty telephones on the list. Today, as already stated, there are 112, and this number would be larger if it had been possible to obtain new instruments. Thus the exchange has almost doubled its service during a period of eight months, which satisfactory state of affairs is to be attributed not only to the growth and progress of the town, but as well to the push and activity displyed by the efficient and obliging manager. Fred Millard, who assumed charge of affairs last June, just about the time that the exchange began to grow in earnest, a fact which is in itself significant.

This happy condition of affairs has set a lively pace for the company, which is now actively engaged in increasing the efficiency of the service to meet the damands made upon it. At present there are four wires running between Pasadena and Los Angeles, furnishing as many direct lines, while 112 additional wires issue from the Pasadena central office, a separate wire being required for each subscriber. For some days past a force of men has been at work setting up mammont new forty-foot poles through town. The line extends to being required for each subscriber. For some days past a force of men has been at work setting up mammoth new forty-foot poles through town. The line extends to Los Angeles, and as soon as the poles are strung there will be ten direct wires operating between that city and Pasadena, instead of four, as at present. At the same time the ground circuit system now in use will be supplanted by what is known as the metallic circuit, which has proved so successful in the long-distance lines throughout the country. This provides against any interference with the sound, each line consisting of two wries, which form a complete circuit. By an ingenious yet simple contrivance the local lines will have a metallic circuit also, without, however, necessitating a double wire. These improvements are being pushed forward with all possible dispatch, and about the middle of February the central station will be moved from its present location to the second floor of the Wetherby & Kayser building, where two good-sized rooms have been leased. The front room will be devoted to public use, and in the rear apartment Manager Millard will have his office by the side of a new and improved switchboard, which will be warranted to answer all demands for another year at least.

SAN BERNARDINO.

The blunder, if such it may be, by which he contract for paving Third street from F to the Santa Fé station was let under the Vrooman Act in such a manner as to require immediate payments instead of upon the ten-year bond plan, continues the talk of the town, and has brought forth many expressions of indignation and general and particular denunciation of the city officers who might in any way be responsible for it.

It has been claimed by some that the contract was so worded with intent to deceive. But there is nothing known at present which could be cited in substantiation of this charge. It therefore seems to be noth ing more than a gross blunder, reflecting alike upon the City Attorney, Street Superall of whom had to pass upon the bill, and are supposed to know just what it did and did not contain, and to understand all its provisions. The fact that they have passed upon a vast amount of city work involving large expenditures and have not before committed a grave mistake does not relieve them of the responsibility of this blunder.

AGAINST COUNTY DIVISION The Pioneers keep hammering away on the county division propositions, and if res-olutions against and denunciation of the county division projects could defeat them, the imperial county of San Bernardino would never be dismembered. by Ploneer Katz:
Resolved, that we heartily ratify and indorse the action of our honorable Board of Supervisors in denouncing the various schemes and intrigues now being attempted in the Legislature of our State against our county by a few designing capitalists, hotel keepers, real estate sharks and office seekers, seeking ato destroy our county, that they may build themselves up, attempting to deceive the members of the Legislature by misrepresenting the wishes and desires of the people.

Resolved, further, that we condemn the treacherous conduct of H. M. Streeter, who now holds his seat in the Senate by promises made at different times and different times and different the seat of the search of places during his canvass, that he would oppose the division of the county, and by which promises he secured the votes of our people only to betray them at the first op-portunity, thus deserving the same action n the Senate that Bretz received in the

It represents at present five carloads of seedlings and twenty of nazels. It will see that no fruit is sent out without the inspection and consent of the Executive Committee, which is composed of the above-named officers. As should be the case in all shipments, the members intend to get up a reputation for strictly first-class fruit. Should they have any-second-class fruit it will be so labled. It is to be hoped, for the reputation of the California orange, and the wide circulation it will get this time on account of Florida's freeze-up, that other shippers and packers will follow this example. The remainder of the growers of this valley have as yet not organized, but some quiet work is being done, and, if they can be induced to stick together, it is probable the organization will be perfected.

SHARPLE AT WORE

SHARPERS AT WORK. An attempt was made a few days ago by two sharpers to euchre a farmer by the An attempt was made a few days ago by two sharpers to euchre a farmer by the name of Shaffer, who lives near Orange, out of $500, but so far as learned they were unsuccessful. One of the sharpers first went to Farmer . Shaffer, and, representing himself to be Judge Martin from Fresno, wanted to buy a ranch. The farmer hitched up a team, and started to show the ranch buyer over the country. In driving along the public road near Orange they met a man walking, who stopped them and told them he was advertising the Louisiana State lottery, and, after explaining his system to them, asked his pal, Judge (?) Martin to draw a ticket from his hand just to try his luck. The Judge (?) drew one of the pieces of paper, and naturally enough drew $5, according to the footman's method. Farmer Shaffer was then asked to draw, which he did with the same degree of success as his newly made friend. The money in both cases was promptly handed over to the two men in the buggy. Then they drew again, and to the farmer's surprise drew $2000. This large amount the footman claimed he would not be justified in paying until he knew something of his newly-made acquaintances' financial standing in the community, as his work was purely an advertising proposition. Therefore he would require each of them to sign a paper to the effect that they were worth at least $10.000 apiece, and if they were not they were to pay a forfeit of $500. This they both agreed to do, but the farmer thought he had better go and consult his banker about the matter. They all three returned to Orange and the banker was consulted. The proposition ended there, for when the farmer had the little deal explained to him and came out to read the riot act to the sharpers they were gone, perhaps to find another "sucker." The agreement would have turned out to be a note for $500, payable one day after date.

THAT "ANTIQUE" FIND. The archæological specimen spoken of in yesterday's issue of THE TIMES as being found in the Santiago Hills, east of Santa Ana, was the subject of much discussion in the city yesterday. It was brought into the Times branch office and examined by those who have an advanced knowledge of antiquities in general, who pronounced it the skull of the fish-reptile, ichthyosaurus, an extinct marine animal, whose fossil remains are found in England and other countries, but, so far as at present known, never before found in America. CABLE ROAD SUIT.

Another Day Devoted to Identifying Bonds.

Apparently but Little Progress Made on the Case.

Receiver Crank and Superintenden Aikin Again on the Stand.

Another Interest Admitted to the Suit-The Original Trust Deeds Also Identitled-The Disposition of

The trial of the foreclosure suit instituted against the Pacific (cable) Railway Company by the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago was resumed in Department Four yesterday morning, after Judge Van Dyke had summarily disposed of the law and motion calendar of that department, and occupied the attention of the Court all day. Very little headway was, however, made, owing to the large number of interests at stake, and the precautions exercised by counsel who represent them. In fact, from a layman's point of view the proceedings have, up to the present time, been characterized by a tameness and series of complications calculated to cause ennui.

When the case was called Mr. Gardiner asked leave of the court to reopen the plaintiff's case, stating that he had one or two more questions to ask Messrs. Aiken and Crank.

As neither gentleman was present, however, the Court requested counsel for the cross-complainants to proceed with the case in regular order, but Attorney Allen informed the Court that he, also, was unable to do so in the absence of Mr. Crank.

Copies of the articles of incorporation of the various corporations interested in the suit at bar were, however, offered in evidence by that gentleman, counsel admitting that some of the companies involved were corporations, and the demand of the bondholders of July 11, 1892, calling upon Brown and Alvord, the trustees, to declare the full amount due and immediately proceed to a foreclosure of the mortgage, or trust deed, was also offered and admitted. After a slight delay the delinquent witnesses arrived, and J. J. Aiken was at once recalled for the plaintiff.

Upon being shown a type-written schedule, witness stated that it was a statement of the disposition made of the Pacifice Railway Company's bonds, made under his direction from advices received from Holmes, whereupon Atty.-Gen. Hart objected to this testi-mony on the ground that it was hearsay evidence. This schedule was made in order that witness might have a state-ment of the affairs of the company. He did not receive these advices until about a year after the bonds had been sold, but he at once entered them in the company's books, kept by him as assistant treasurer.

Witness was then taken in hand by Atty.-Gen. Hart, who cross-examined him at considerable length, and in-sisted that the books kept by Aiken here were inadmissible for the purpose of showing the sale of the bonds, be-cause, according to the witness' own admission, he made his entries therein upon a statement furnished him by who was in Chicago a year after the sale.

Upon re-direct examination witness stated that these books, which were opened here on May 1, 1890, and kept by direction of Vice-President Crank, purported to show all the money trans-actions of the corporation.

Mr. Gardiner then read the following: list of the bonds sold: Estate of George Armour, deceased, 50; M. A. Ryerson, 25; H. Getty, 10; guarantee fund, 2; R. W. Roleson, 3; C. B. White, 15; H. McWilliams, 25; Sedgley, 5; C. H. S. Mixer, 11; Robert-Law, 100; H. E. Lowe & Co., 34; Peabody, Houghteiing & Co., 7; Vermilyea & Co., 140; H. Whitbeck, 50; Wright, Mysenberg & Co., 6, and unknown, 30. Total, 518. The following list of the bonds hypothe cated for loans was also read: D. P. Morgan, 30: Corn Exchange Bank, 30; M. M. McHughs and wife of Boston are moug yesterday's arrivals.

J. A. Shea and wife of Minneapolis, Minn.,

J. A. Shea and wife of Minneapolis, Minn., obdell, E. L. & Co., 28; Robert Law, 28; Dearborn Foundry Company, 6; Chemical Trust & Savings Bank, 28; T. Lefens, 28; Fourth National Bank of St. Louis, 55; St. Louis Railroad Com any, 165; National Bank of Illinois, 55; Boatmen's Savings Bank, 55; Northwestern National Bank, 110; Continental National Bank, 28; American Trust and Savings Bank, 22; Robert Law, 17; National Bank of America, 60; Union Trust Company, 30; M. A. Ryerson, 28, and Lobdell, Fanwell & Co., 78; total, 1119. The book containing this statement was offered by Mr. Gardiner, for the purpose of showing that these bonds had been sold, and the money received by the Pacific Rallway Company; but Mr. Chapman remarked sententiously that he did not believe the books would show such a state of facts, but that 1119 had been pledged as collateral security to secure the debts contracted by C. B.

J. F. Crank was recalled, and stated that, on April 30, 1890, he, as vice-president of the Pacific Railway Compresident of the Pacine Railway Company, took possession of the personal property of the cable company, but did not assume possession of the real property and business until October 9.

In response to a question by Mr. Chapman, witness said that up to that time I G. Rebinson controlled and marking I G. Rebinson controlled and marking in the controlled and marking time J. C. Robinson controlled and managed the business.

In reply to a question by Atty.-Gen.
Hart: Witness was elected a director and vice-president of the Pacific Railway Company in March, 1890. He was way Company in March, 1890. He was an officer of the cable company from its organization until January 25, 1889, and on August 9, 1890, he again be-came an officer. Prior to April 30, 1890, J. C. Robinson had acted as superintendent. J. J. Aiken was at that time local treasurer. perintendent. J. J. Alken was at that time local treasurer. Witness was questioned very closely as to the change of possession, and, after detailing all the circumstances of the matter, admitted that, practically, the only change was when he went into the superintendent's office after Robin-son had gone out.

In answer to a question by Attorney Chapman: The accounts were from that time kept in the name of the Pacific Railway Company. In the absence of some of the company's books, Mr. Crank was temporarily excused, and Mr. Allen proceeded to recall him as the first witness for the cross-complainants, Thomas Brown and William Alvord of San Francisco, the trustees under the trust deed executed by the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company. Witness testified to the effect that the cable company was organized in July, 1887, he being its president. He held this office until January 25, 1889, when he was succeeded by C. B. Holmes. S. P. Jewett was secretary during that time.

during that time.

Upon being shown the original trust deed above referred to, witness identified the signatures attached thereto as those of Jewett and himself, and of William Alvord and Thomas Brown. He also identified the official seal of the company.

The deed was then offered in evidence, Atty.-Gen. Hart objecting to it on the ground that it had not been shown that there was any authorization for its execution.

The objection was overruled, and witness was shown a bond signed by Charles Forman as vice-president, and S. P. Jewett as secretary; both of which signatures he identified. It was then shown by witness that 1500 of these bonds had been authorized by the provisions of the trust deed, 836 of which had been sold. Mr. Allen stated which had been sold. Mr. Allen states that he had 881 of these, but that three held by Forman and two by the estate of E. F. Spence, deceased, were not in his possession. It was, however, stipulated that these should be produced and cancelled before judgment was entered, and that the same proof should be con-sidered made as to each of the other 830 bonds as had been made in the one produced. It was then shown that the cable company was insolvent in January, 1891, and did not pay series 17 of its coupons when due. Witness stated that eighty of these bonds were Witness deposited as collateral security the Pacific Rolling Mills of San Francisco for a $50,000 draft due on September 15, 1890, and another for $20,-450.88 make on September 17, 1890, in accordance with an agreement made by Holmes.

Upon reconvening for the afternoon session, W. J. H. Hunsaker, Esq., ap-peared on behalf of the Los Angeles National Bank, which holds three of the receiver's certificates, and asked leave of the Court to file a complaint in intervention, stating that his clients understood that the question as to the validity and priority of these certificates was at issue and were anxious to protect them-

John D. Pope, Esq., said that he un-derstood that these questions had been deferred until the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of the property, but Mr. Hunsaker dryly remarked that his clients preferred not to wait until that time.

Mr. Allen vigorously objected to a new litigant coming in, on the ground that it would delay the proceedings, and that these parties were already protected by the order of the Court. Mr. Pope argued that these were the very certificates concerning which a case was now pending in the Supreme Court, and as they had been superseded they could not be passed upon at pres

Atty.-Gen. Hart offered a lengthy stipulation covering the matter, but it was not entered into, and finally, at the suggestion of J. S. Chapman, Esq., it was agreed that Mr. Hunsaker's clients be allowed to join with the receiver, their interests being identical.

Mr. Crank was then cross-examined by Atty.-Gen. Hart, and testified to the effect that in addition to the $36 cable company's bonds, testified to in the morning, bonds up to number 1250 had been certified by the trustees subject to Holmes's order. Of these 250 had never been issued and the balance had been pledged; 110 had been held by the receiver at Chicago; 110 pledged with Peabody, Houghteling & Co. for a loan of $100,000 made on October 21, 1889; 114 pledged to the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank for a loan of $100,-000 made February 9, 1889; another of $10,000 made June 29, and a third of $10,000 made June 29, and a third of $4000 made July 17, while eighty had been pledged with the Pacific Rollings Mill Company.

Witness was next examined by Charles Silent, Esq., who represented Peabody, Honghteling & Co., the holders of 110 of the bonds in controversy, and the deposition of John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, was read by S. O. Honghton gs Bank, was read by S. O. Esq., for the purpose of showing that the sum of $114,000 had actually been paid by that corporation to Holmes for the use of the cable company and had accepted its notes therefor, which were secured by bonds. J. J. Aiken was recalled by S. O. Houghton at this juncture for the purpose of showing that by resolution of October 12, 1892, the cable company had relinquished its equity in the bonds, no payments, except interest thereon up to October 1, 1890, having been made on the loans, and that the holders were willing to accept the same in discharge of its date.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR.

onsiderable Damage to Sidewalks, Street and Yards-Several Bridges in Shaky Condition-The Situation at Summit Street,

Over Two Inches of Rain in Twentyfour Hours.

The rain continued all yesterday with but slight intermissions, at times coming down in torrents, the gauge at the Government weather office showing a fall for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon of 2.19 inches, bringing the total for the season up to 13.42 inches.

Considerable damage resulted to sidewalks, yards and streets in the southern portion of the city, while several bridges have been damaged to a considerable extent, the Summit street bridge in particular, where the water has cut around it in such a manner as to almost insure its total destruction, which, should such a thing occur, would endanger several cottages depending upon the approaches to the bridge holding to secure the embankments on which they stand from being washed away, for the residences of that local-ity are built upon foundations filled in with loose earth.

Police officer Maguire telephoned the police station early last evening for wagons, men and lanterns to fight the water at Summit street, and for ropes to secure the bridge while at water to be secured to be secured to be secured to secure the bridge while at water to secure the bridge while at water to be secured to secure the bridge while at water to be secured to be secured to secure the bridge while at water to be secured to be

NEARING THE END.

Last Week of the Great Pitcher & Gray Sale.

An Entire Outfit, Suit, Hat, Shirt, Socks, Underwear, Necktie, Overcoat and All for Next to Nothing!-A Great Opportunity.

The Pitcher & Gray Company. South Spring street, are retiring from business. Everything they have is offered for sale at about the prices they thought the goods would bring at public auction. There is not a thing in the store but is offered at less than it cost to manufacture it. One can buy there a suit of clothes, an overcoat, a hat, or any article in the gent's furnishing line, at half the price he will be asked anywhere else in the city. This is not a matter of mere assertion. It is the truth. Any buyer can satisfy himself as to its correctness by pricing goods eisewhere and comparing them with these. And the goods are first-class and "in style." There is nothing inferior or shoddy about any of them. They are just what good buyers want. And good buyers will make a big mistake if they allow this chance to escape them. The fixtures and stock are liable to be closed out in a lump any day. Call at once if you want any of the big bargains.

LAST DAYS

On Wednesday next we take our annual inventory, and you have a last chance at our merchandise before it becomes a fixed valuation. You will find more genuine bargains lying around on our counters to the square inch than you will to the square yard in any other similar merchandising establishment in this city.

We have absolute confidence in our goods, in our system of doing busi. ness and in our methods. Although only a year and one-half old, our San Francisco store probably ranks third largest in the amount of annual sales, out-footing competitors who have been in that city from ten to twenty years.

Our merchandise has quality, it has merit, and the generality of articles are sold for less than most merchants pay for them. At the present writing, we have five buyers in New York city selecting our spring Merchandise. We doubt if there is another concern in the State of California, wholesale or retail, who can say as much.
